Press Release

MICROPLEX opens new office in the South Eastern United States

The new Southeastern office supports MICROPLEX growth in the USA.

Solon, Ohio –June 6th, 2005: MICROPLEX proudly announced its expansion in the USA, with a new office in Atlanta, Georgia. The expansion signifies the commitment to growth in the United States, as well as allows for enhanced sales, support, and services to the southeastern channel partners of MICROPLEX.

“Our local presence in the southeast greatly enhances our ability to sell and support through our Channel Partners in this region” according to Andre Fedak, President of MICROPLEX-USA. “This expansion will allow us to better provide printing solutions to our markets and is a sign of our growth and commitment to the US operations.”

Scott Neilson, the Sales Manager for the Southeastern region brings with him, over 23 years of experience in mid-range, industrial and production printing environments. The Southeastern office will provide our Channel Partners local support to help them grow sales and offer the new line of MICROPLEX products. The primary focus of printer products will be in the mid-range continuous form laser printer markets. “I’m excited about our growth and expansion into the Southeast and with my experience in the reseller channel I will be able to provide the level of support necessary to replace many legacy printers in the region” explains Mr. Neilson. “Our commitment to the continuous forms laser market has provided our customers with solid solutions and will continue to provide new and leading technology offerings in these markets”.

MICROPLEX is a Solon, Ohio, based printer manufacturer and is a leader in continuous form laser printers for mid-range production applications. MICROPLEX’s products are available worldwide through very experienced channel partners and in offices in Germany, France and the USA.
